When can a certification body be changed?

A new certification cycle suggests itself for changing the certification body. A certification cycle covers three years and starts with a certification audit, followed by two annually surveillance audits. The new cycle begins after the validity date of your certificate. The recertification audit should be completed no later than one month before the expiration date of the certificate.

Ideally, you should let us know that you would like to change three to nine months in advance before the planned audit so that we may start planning together with you. A change is also possible during the annual surveillance audit.

Of course, the change is also possible in combination with an initial certification in another management system.

Your previous certification has expired? In this case, we would be happy to calculate the effort for an initial certification for you.
